

The FORM Design Library Artwork Submission Process

How It Works

Artwork accepted into The FORM Design Library is available for purchase on textiles and/or wallpaper printed by Orms Print Room & Framing.

The artist earns commission on every sale using their artwork.

The artist's commission fee will be discussed directly with the artist once a design is approved by our team of curators.

We only accept original work created by the submitting artist. Do not submit work on behalf of another person.

The Submission Process

Step One: Upload your design / artwork / photograph online. All mediums welcome! See our existing Design Library for guidance.

Step Two: A team of curators will review your submission/s.

Step Three: You can expect feedback within 10 working days.

Step Four: If your submission is accepted into The FORM Design Library, you will receive a contract requesting your information, detailing the terms and stipulating your commission fee. Please respond with a signed copy.

Step Five: Our team will request high res images for printing.

Step Six: Your commission will be paid to you monthly based on sales featuring your artwork.
